

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What are the size of the grants being administered by United Way Centraide?

United Way of Central New Brunswick has not established a minimum or maximum grant amount. We will be issuing grants based on the proposed services, associated amounts requested and overall demand.

2. How much money is available through this fund? Is it possible to find out how much is available for our region?

The ECSF is a $350 million investment made by the Government of Canada, and a significant portion is being delivered through United Ways Centraide Canada, Community Foundations of Canada and Canadian Red Cross across the country. United Way of Central New Brunswick will be allocating $582,088 in Central NB (this includes Carleton, Madawaska, Queens, Restigouche, Sunbury, Victoria, and York counties) in Part 2 of this process.

3. If we have received other federal and/or provincial or territorial Covid-19 related funding, can we still apply?

Yes, ECSF resources can enhance and expand your current COVID-19 funded community service so long as expenses are not counted twice.

4. What if we are not currently a United Way or Centraide funded agency?

We are committed to ensuring that funds are broadly available to community service organizations and agencies working to provide services and support vulnerable populations impacted by COVID-19. You do not need to be a current funded agency to apply.

5. Which kinds of community service organizations are eligible?

Organizations providing front-line services to vulnerable populations impact by COVID-19 are eligible to apply, including registered charities, and other qualified donees. Check the Canada Revenue Agency list of qualified donees by clicking here.

6. We are a non-profit, how can we access and partner with United Way Centraides to provide support to vulnerable communities?

Non-profits in Canada are playing an important role in helping to respond to local needs. Unfortunately, we are unable to partner with non-profits at this time.

AND

The Canadian Red Cross has launched a granting program for Non-profits. To find out more about their program please visit redcross.ca/communityorganizations.]

7. Will you pay for activities that meet the criteria that are already underway?

If activities or services are underway, you can apply for additional resources to expand and/or extend the delivery of service for a longer time (up to March 31, 2021).

8. If my agency is receiving the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy, are we still eligible to apply for funding?

Yes, ECSF funds cannot fund any expenses (including wages) already covered by another source, but can complement existing sources, including the wage subsidy.

9. How many funding requests can be made by one organization?

Community Services Organizations may apply for more than one program/initiative. Please submit one application outlining the different proposed program/initiatives and their respective budgets.

10. How will decisions about the funding be made? How quickly can we anticipate a decision?

Applications will be reviewed by volunteers from our United Way Community Investment Committee: we are accepting application from October 5th to October 30th. All funding allocations will be made public on or before November 27th, 2020.

11. The front-line services we are delivering are at risk of closing without new funding. Are we able to apply for funding under this program?

The purpose of the ECSF is to resource front-line services supporting vulnerable populations impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Eligible expenses include staffing, equipment, supplies, and related operating costs that allow organizations to provide and deliver services that respond to the current crisis.

12. May we apply to United Way Centraides, Community Foundations and Canadian Red Cross?

Yes. Applicants may not, however, apply to more than one funder for the same program activities and related costs. The three intermediaries will be coordinating locally to ensure that funds are being distributed to have the best possible local reach to serve vulnerable populations.

13. What are the reporting requirements?

The reporting requirements for this funding will focus primarily on number of services and clients served, and organizations will be expected to periodically provide updates to these numbers throughout the period of the grant. Additional details will be shared with successful applicants.

14. How will United Way Centraides ensure that this funding is reaching the most vulnerable communities? Is there a commitment to access and equity for these resources?

United Way of Central NB is committed to ensuring an open and fair application and review process. We will be working to promote this funding opportunity throughout our community and to support organizations seeking to apply.

United Way of Central New Brunswick will be considering a number of equity dimensions as they make decisions on how these resources will be allocated locally. These can include populations served, geographic balance, rural and remote access or other systemic challenges.

15. We're part of national organization network, but we are governed locally. Should we look to apply to our local United Way Centraide for ECSF funds or should our national office coordinate our applications?

Resources are being distributed across the country through local offices. Local chapters of national organizations should to apply directly to their local United Way or Centraide.

16. Where can we find more information? Will assistance be provided in the application process?

Organizations can find further information by referring to the ECSF Round 2 Applicant Guide. For further assistance, you can contact Roxana Atkinson at roxana@unitedwaycentral.com (506) 459-7773 ext.204.

17. If I applied for ECSF funding in round 1, can I apply again in round 2?

Yes, whether you were unable to receive funding in the first round, or if you plan on expanding or extending your program further into 2021, you may re-apply.
